BROADWAY SHOWS CHRISTMAS TOUCH IN SHOW WINDOWS

Holiday Rush in Its Incipency and the Stores are Busy.

Out-of-Town Trade Has Not Started.

MAIL ORDERS ARE GROWING.

Business is increasing at the post-office every day now, and soon the usual holiday rush will be on. Inquiries today elicited the information that already quite a number of presents intended for faraway points, are being mailed now.

Payments on money orders are running a third heavier this year than a year ago. This is due to the remarkable business the mail order whisky houses of Paducah are doing. Already their forces are taxed to fill the orders now coming in, and in a week the big rush will be on.

Broadway is wearing a Christmas aspect. Many of the merchants have all of their displays out now, appreciating the value of suggestion as a means to bringing early shopping, and stimulating buying. There has been quite a deal of local Christmas shopping but the out-of-town trade, which has been such a big feature of the holiday business has not started yet. Next week, however, should see it on in earnest.

A few days of rain just now would gladden the hearts of Paducah merchants more than anything that can happen. Moist weather will start the tobacco and bring the country folk to town in great numbers. There is no estimating just how much a few such days would mean to Paducah.

The fall season so far has been very satisfactory, many reports of increases over last year, running as high as 30 per cent, are heard, and all lines seem to be doing much better business than a year ago.

FAMILY ESCAPES AS ROOF TUMBLES

FIRE DESTROYS HOME OF MR.
FRANK GORDON, AT ELVA, AT NIGHT.

Elva, Ky., Dec. 3.—(Special)—Awakened from their slumbers just as the roof of their home was falling in, the family of Frank Gordon had a narrow escape for their lives. All members escaped from the burning building, but did not save any of the household goods. The fire started in the kitchen and gained great headway before discovered. The loss is about $1,000.

THOUGHT IT WAS FIGHT INSTEAD OF A FIRE

Lack of wind last night prevented the home of William G. Wright, 227 North Ninth street, from being destroyed by fire before the fire alarm was received by the fire department. The stove pipe dropped, and the second floor caught fire from the heating stove. A fire alarm was telephoned over the old phone to the Palmer House, but the operator understood that it was a fight instead of a fire and notified Police Captain John Dorian, who sent Patrolmen Kirk and Mitchell from Ninth and Washington streets to the house. When they arrived the fire alarm

Shop Force Not Reduce

There is a good prospect that there will not be any reduction of force in any department of the Illinois Central shops this year. At present the shops are working eight hours a day, but a full force is maintained, which is of more value to Paducah than to have a smaller force and work longer hours.

Big Crowd on Hand.

The largest crowd that has yet sought admission to the trial of Joseph Wendling besieged the criminal court. The place was packed and the police had considerable difficulty keeping back those who clamored for admission.

Evan Hammond, president of the Smith & Nixon company, piano dealers, for whom Wendling worked for several months as elevator man, was called to testify as to the alleged trouble between Wendling and his brother-in-law, Alois Arnold. Mr. Hammond could testify only as to hearsay, and was excused. He was not cross-examined.

Capt. John P. Carney, chief of the Louisville detective department, was recalled to the stand. He was asked about the amount of the rewards offered for the capture of Wendling. He replied that he understood it was $5,000, as he had advertised this sum in a circular which had been sent broadcast.

Wendling Case Goes to Jury Late This Afternoon—Proof Must Be Made to Sustain All Statements

Judge Gregory Charges Jurors
After They Have Inspected Premises Where the Child's Body was Found.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 3.—(Special)—In instructing the jury in the Wendling case this morning, Judge Gregory said admissions by the prisoner outside the court, unless accompanied by other proof were not sufficient to convict. Arguments are in progress. The case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

Jury Visits Scene.

A remarkable parade through the streets of Louisville took place yesterday afternoon when the jury in the Wendling case, Joseph Wendling, the defendant, Judge Gregory and the attorneys on both sides walked from the criminal courtroom to St. John's church at Clay and Walnut, that the jury might inspect the premises where it is said Alma Kellner was murdered.

A crowd of several hundred people accompanied them. The crowd at the courtroom had been the heaviest ever known, and when it was decided to take the jury to the church that they might examine for themselves the places mentioned in the evidence there was a gathering at hand ready to go.

Very few of them heeded the judge and as the procession proceeded it grew larger. When the church was reached there were several hundred of the curious.

Wendling was guarded by two deputy sheriffs.

Besides the jury and Judge Gregory, Attorneys Mix, for the commonwealth, and Ray and Clements, for the defense, were along.

As the procession made its way on foot through the streets the crowd constantly increased in number.

The route was from court place through Fifth street to Walnut and up Walnut to the church.

At Fifth and Green Judge Gregory stopped and addressed the crowd. He urged the people to go back saying they had nothing to do with the trial and ought not to hamper the jury.

Beginning December 19 a special term of the McCracken circuit court will be held to dispose of the remainder of the cases on the docket for the October term. This was done this morning in order that Circuit Judge William Reed, who is special judge in the Graves circuit court, might complete the docket at Mayfield. Judge Reed intended to hold court in Paducah next week, but the Mayfield attorneys requested Judge Reed to conclude the term of court at Mayfield first. This he consented to do provided the Paducah bar association would grant the privilege. A committee from the Mayfield bar came to Paducah last night, and this morning their request was granted.

Circuit Judge Reed has made a distinctive hit in Mayfield with his progressive method of conducting a court, and resolutions were adopted by the bar, commending his prompt disposal of cases. The attorneys, who came from Mayfield with the request that Judge Reed be permitted to conclude the docket at Mayfield are: Attorneys Robert L. Smith, Will Webb, Joe Warren, Sam Crossland and Gus Thomas.

Orders Entered.

ferred with the success of the management of the Kentucky in booking high-class attractions. Many attractions that season after season have toured the south, cut out that territory this year, and companies carrying choruses are giving it a wide berth. In view of this fact, Paducah patrons should not lose the opportunity to witness a really meritorious attraction, when it is offered. Among the strongest casts that will be presented here during the season is that of "The Traveling Salesman," headed by Frank McIntyre, who originated the title role, and Gertrude Coghlan, daughter of Charles Coghlan, author of "The Royal Box" and prominent player of Beth in "The Traveling Salesman," and the balance of the company, including James O'Neill, Jr., son of the famous star of "The Count of Monte Cristo," were in "The Traveling Salesman" when it was produced in New York.

During the last three weeks the company has played at Louisville, Terre Haute and Evansville, Ind., and Lexington, Ky. At each place the entire company made a hit and Mr. McIntyre was compelled to make a speech at the close of the show. The company will play Nashville tonight and Monday The Evening Sun will reproduce the opinion of the Nashville papers on the performance.

The Lexington Leader said: "Sparkling with wit and infectious in humor 'The Traveling Salesman' spent one night at the opera house Thursday. He was greeted by a large audience and he rewarded his hearers by his clever sayings and happy ways. In fact 'The Traveling Salesman' was a real comedy: light, airy, but withal amusing and those who saw it were satisfied in full measure."

"The 'Salesman' is one of those happy 'Knights of the Road' who is used to facing hard situations with a smile and who could almost melt an iron man with his hearty laugh. As played by Frank McIntyre he was almost perfect. Mrs. Basset as portrayed by Sarah McNickel, H. D. Blake more as the colored porter, Julius and Gertrude Coghlan as Beth Elliott were almost as good."

The Yankee Doodle Stock company closes its engagement at the Kentucky with a double bill interspersed with vaudeville, tonight.

Tuesday the Lewis Stock company, a repertoire organization with a big band and orchestra, playing popular plays at popular prices, will begin a week's engagement. This company travels in its own car and is one of the strongest of its kind on the road.

The Shubert Masonic theater at Louisville offers Harry Bulger in one of the greatest successes of his career the fore part of next week. "The Flirting Princess" is the vehicle and the music is bright and catchy, while the lines are said to be quite good. The play had a run of one year in Chicago, where it made quite a hit. Eddie Foy, with his big production of "Up and Down Broadway," comes the 8th, 9th and 10th. Over a dozen song writers contributed to the score of the piece and of course it is a success. Eddie Foy is assisted by Emma Carus, and the company numbers a hundred people.

FOR MONOPOLY

GIGANTIC MERGER OF PHONE LINES PLANNED.

Morgan's Hand Is Seen in the Legislative Move in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Dec. 3.—Plans for a gigantic telephone and telegraph trust covering the entire United States are declared to be behind the recent move to combine the telephone interests of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Eastern New York.

As the first step in this direction the telephone interests are now having a bill drawn which will be presented to the coming state legislature permitting consolidation of the Bell company, the Morgan interests and the remaining independent interests of the state. Ohio is the stronghold of the independents, and if the consolidation can be accomplished here the completion of a nation-wide monopoly will be a comparatively easy thing.

This, it is declared, is the real plan that was developed when a conference was held two weeks ago to take steps for the Ohio consolidation. Later conferences were held at New York last week between D. J. Cable, of Lima; Charles A. Otis, of Cleveland, and one other Cleveland telephone man, together with Frank Davis, head of the Morgan telephone interests in Ohio, and Frank Bean, president of the Ohio Independent Telephone association. At these meetings all arrangements are declared to have been perfected for a state consolidation if a law permitting such an action can be passed at the coming legislature.

This bill is now being drawn. It will make whatever concessions the Ohio people may demand for its passage. In order to make possible the furtherance of the gigantic trust in other territory, Morgan is declared to be the prime mover back of the proposed consolidation.

A Simple Safeguard for Mothers.
Mrs. D. Gillespie, 326 Ingles ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. Gilbert's drug store."

FATE OF MONTGOMERY.

Avoided by Two Historic Ante-Bellum Governors.

It will not be improper at this time when the governor of North Carolina and the governor of South Carolina are meeting in a sister state to tell the real history of what was said at that famous historic meeting so often referred to. It has been the legend that the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina, "It is a long time between drinks," but according to the facts as told by an eye-witness to that famous meeting, no such words were used. This faithful chronicler says that the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina, "Remember the fate of Montgomery."

"Well, who in the thunder was Montgomery?" asked the governor of South Carolina.
"He is the man who died between drinks," replied the governor of North Carolina.—Exchange.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

We Have Taken the Exclusive Agency for the World Famous Guaranteed Shoes

From now on the men of this town will have an opportunity to buy guaranteed shoes. We have made it possible by taking the agency for Desnoyers "Six Months" Shoes—the first and only shoes ever sold under a written guaranty.

The Only Guaranteed Shoes on Earth

Never before has it been possible to buy guaranteed shoes, because never before have guaranteed shoes been made. Heretofore it has been absolutely impossible for manufacturers to make a shoe good enough to guarantee. Their enormous selling expense prevented it. High salaried traveling men, big hotel bills, etc., cost shoe manufacturers over Five Million Dollars a year.

But the Desnoyers Shoe Co. did away with traveling men and their big expenses. They sell direct to dealers by letter, and put the thousands of dollars saved into better leather and other materials. Thus they can afford to make a shoe that's far superior to others and good enough to guarantee.

Desnoyers "Six Months" Shoes

GUARANTEED TO GIVE FULL SIX MONTHS' WEAR

These shoes will be a revelation to the people of this town. They are marvels of beauty, style and shape. Never before have you seen such leather and such wearing qualities.

Here's the Guarantee

If either the soles or uppers wear out within four months we agree to furnish a new pair of shoes entirely free of charge. If either the soles or uppers wear out during the fifth month we agree to refund $2.00 in cash. If either the soles or uppers wear out during the sixth month we agree to refund $1.00 in cash. In other words, if these shoes should not give full six months' wear we refund more than the proportion they fall short.

Best Leather in the World

The manufacturers of the "Six Months" Shoes send way to Switzerland and France for the hides from which they make these shoes.

The Swiss and French hides are the toughest and finest hides for sole leather produced anywhere in the world, owing to Switzerland's high altitude and the extreme care with which the Swiss stock is raised. It is protected from all weather conditions and kept clean and healthy.

Best Looking and Best Wearing Shoes Made

"Six Months" Shoes are wonderful in appearance as well as in wearing qualities. They combine style, finish and quality in a degree never before equaled in a shoe selling at anywhere near the same price.

A Quality Shoe Clear Through

"Six Months" Shoes are made with sole leather box toes to give extra strength at the tip. Army duck lining is used, which costs twice as much as ordinary lining, but it is the strongest and smoothest lining made.

The uppers are stitched together by lock-stitch machines using the very highest grade silk thread. Nothing but the best Irish Linen thread is used in sewing the soles. These methods all cost more, but they make the shoes last much longer.

We "Make Good" the Guarantee

You don't have to send your shoes to the factory to be re-deemed or to secure the refund. We make good the guaranty and the manufacturer pays us. You have no dealings whatever with strangers.

You don't risk one cent when you buy "Six Months" Shoes. You know you will have six months' wear for your $4.00 or the equivalent of that in dollars and cents.

A STYLE FOR EVERY PURPOSE

Desnoyers "Six Months" Shoes are made in the very latest styles for every purpose. There are work shoes, business shoes and dress shoes. And the best styles of each to choose from. You can't lose on a pair, so why hesitate? Call now while our stock is complete.

Daily Thought.

Wisdom is always good to learn,
whose wisdom soever it may be.—
A. M. Fairbairn.

The college professors, who think the American women are losing their shapes on account of the excessive and disproportionate exercise of athletic girls, remind us of the scientists, who declare that women inherit certain traits on account of the conditions under which women lived in former ages. The latter observation necessitates the assumption that girls inherit all their mother's traits and none of their father's, and that boys inherit their father's traits and none of their mother's. We cannot accept the theory; and we can't see how the activities of the athletic girl can affect those, who don't go in for athletics, or their progeny. Something silly about that charge.

THE GOVERNORS.

We want Governor Sloan, of Arizona, that it is difficult to combine the joys of solitude with the satisfaction of a large audience. But seriously, governors are not different from the rest of us, and they are not going to refuse other engagements to attend a governors' conference unless they expect to have some fun, and we doubt whether they are an especially congenial bunch. Public men usually are vain; if they are not born with the protuberance of vanity prominently displayed, it is developed long before they attain the governor's chair, and they love to display themselves before an audience; but we doubt whether they make a very good audience themselves.

We've told them together with social functions; we've furnished them individually and collectively with an audience; and each has had his little day, in which to pose in the lime light, without being forced to say anything that would interfere with his chances of the presidency; for, of course, every mother's son of them is a presidential possibility. Those, who had "a message", a hobby or a policy to exploit, exploited it; and Uncle Judson Harmon and the other wise ones, who have sat in the white house chairs and know how pleasant they are, and also what mischief an unguarded word can commit in the course of its immortal career, sat in dignified silence, which becomes them more in the Seelbach hotel than it would in Far-Away-Hurst-on-the-Sound.

Altogether there were some things said, a few seeds sown, and a general sentiment expressed and concurred in that we are progressing, and that the reformers are not wrecking the world. It is worth the while to know that no governor dared express a reactionary opinion. What more business could they transact in the solemn reaches of the desert? They do not compose an executive body; they are expected to take their orders from the people; nothing that they could do or say could be made indiscreet on anyone, and it would be indiscreet if not presumptuous for them as a body to adopt resolutions in favor of any specific legislative enactment. They will express the result of their deliberations in their several messages to the state legislatures.

It is true that those who had long speeches to deliver, or some hobby for controversial enjoyment, were disappointed by the constant intrusion on their precious moments of the plans of the committee on entertainment; but they must remember that they were seeking only pleasure in controversy or joy in frolicking with their hobbies. So, after all, they cannot take on airs and set themselves above those, whose inclinations run more to gastronomic delights, to dalliance in the drawing room or practicing facial expressions in front of a camera.

Vanity, as we observed, assumes various disguises in public men; but it is always there.

DO IT NOW.

A score of people have remarked to us that they think they will play Santa Claus to a child or a family this Christmas. Then don't delay notifying The Evening Sun or the Philanthropic department of the Woman's club, 204 South Seventh street. Christmas is only three weeks off and when the final rush comes you will forget your good resolution, and the department will be overburdened with demands for im-

GOVERNORS AS THEY APPEAR.

The Courier-Journal produced several pen pictures of the visiting governors and other notables, of which the following are extracts:

It was a noticeable fact that no sectional lines were drawn during the conference. The executives from the eastern and New England states did not clique nor did the southern governors nor those from the southwest, the west, the middle west and the northwest. It was not possible to point out a certain individual and remark: "Now, he's from the east; I judge that because he is smartly dressed and well groomed;" or "That governor must be from the middle west because he wears a broad light-colored felt hat and looks like an ex-cowboy."

Appearances were most deceptive so far as exteriors went. For instance, Dr. Woodrow Wilson, who is a doctor of laws and a doctor of letters, with degrees from half a dozen universities, habitually wears a broad-brimmed, fawn-colored Alpine hat and a sack suit. Gov. Marshall, who has been fighting poolroom gambling and other forms of vice from end to end of Indiana, including French Lick, Jeffersonville, East Chicago and Hammond, wore a sack suit. His derby hat generally was tilted down well over his steady right eye and the brim of it nearly met the business end of a long black cigar which always was elevated at an angle of not less than 30 degrees. Gov. Cruce, of Oklahoma, tall and slender, with gentle expression, might have been taken for an evangelist. He wore a long, loose black coat, a black Alpine hat, white linen, round cuffs and white lawn tie.

Gov. Shafroth, of Colorado, never stepped out of his apartments without his formal Prince Albert and silk tie, and Gov. Norris, of Montana, might at any time have been picked from an eastern Sunday scene in Fifth avenue, New York. Gov. Harmon, Gov. Noel, Gov. Deaneen and Gov. Sloan, the latter from Arizona, were typical business men, while Gov. Mann, of Virginia, with flowing silver hair, full white mustache and goatee, black formal dress and white linen and necktie, looked his part—the old-school citizen of the Old Dominion.

Gov. Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, seemed in fine trim when he appeared in the lobby of the Seelbach at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, but the rapid fire of business and social duties Wednesday must have scarred him some. The first thing he said when a group of newspaper men hailed him was:

"Boys, if I could stay over until the executive session of the governor, this evening I sure would propose that we name this conference the amalgamated order of nine-course dinners. Why, after that reception last night I vainly told myself that I was a seasoned social campaigner, but this morning—ah, me—I came down here to attend to business, but what can a man do when society stands all about him holding out pleasure by the bushel?"

Governor Marshall and Mrs. Marshall left at noon yesterday for New York, where they will be guests of mediate attention. Good intentions won't make any poor child happy; it is just as easy to send in your name this afternoon as it is tomorrow afternoon; and the sooner these arrangements are made the better the work will be done. Be a Good Fellow; do it now. Just telephone your wishes or, better still, send in a card, saying "My name is So and So, of Such and Such address. I wish to play Santa Claus to So Many children."

LET US GET THIS SCHOOL.

We are not acquainted with the situation, concerning St. John's Episcopal school for postulants, at Uniontown, which a dispatch to The Evening Sun yesterday afternoon said has outgrown its environments and is seeking a new location, with Clarksville in a receptive mood; but we do know that Paducah, as the metropolis of Jackson's Purchase, lacks prestige as an educational center and stands in need of every institution of learning she can acquire. St. John's school, which fits young men for the Episcopal ministry, is doing a great work in western Kentucky and would be a valuable addition to this city. Moreover, we believe Paducah would be an excellent location for St. John's school, being comparatively easy of access, and possessing many of the advantages of a city, which Clarksville lacks. The acquisition of such a school by Paducah would be mutually advantageous; the city lacks that certain subtle influence, which institutions of higher education exert over the social atmosphere of a community and which nothing else can supply. St. John's school lacks opportunity for the growth, which is now struggling against the confining limitations of its environment. If there is anything in the story of an intended removal of the school, and Paducah has a show of securing it, we suggest that those in touch with the institution open negotiations. We have no doubt that lively inducements in the way of material assistance can be offered the school.

Glasgow hen couldn't teach quail chickens to roost; so she goes with them at night.

honor at the annual dinner of the Hoosier club. Gov. Marshall, Governor Woodrow Wilson, Gov. Herbert S. Hadley, of Missouri, and Gov. Judson Harmon, of Ohio, had their heads together most of the time the conference was in session—business or executive. Awed and tiptoeing spectators pointed them out, with all seriousness, as "moving spirits."

Not a word of politics did any of the newspaper men pry out of Gov. Marshall. Whenever the "bunch" cornered him and began to explode presidential bee or prohibition questions the Indiana executive put up his hands deprecatingly—in a sort of now-I-must-listen attitude—and backed away, saying, "Now, boys, I can't discuss such things at this time."

Gov.-elect Frederick W. Plaisted, one of the active members of the conference, will be the first Democratic chief executive in Maine in thirty years. The last Democratic governor in that state was his father, Gen. Harris M. Plaisted. The latter was elected by the Democrats and Greenbackers by a majority of 169.

The son, who is at present mayor of Augusta, was elected by a majority of more than 8,000. He will have a Democratic legislature, and will send to the national congress the first Democratic senator that has represented Maine since 1852.

Mr. Plaisted has been a successful politician. He has been elected mayor of Augusta four times out of five up. When he became mayor in 1906 he was the third Democratic mayor in sixty years. He was re-elected in 1907 and 1908, and in 1909 he lost by 90 votes. Not daunted by the single defeat Mr. Plaisted ran again last spring, and received the largest majority he ever polled. When he became sheriff of Kennebec county, of which Augusta is the county seat, in 1907, he was the first Democratic sheriff that county had elected in 107 years. Mr. Plaisted held down the jobs of sheriff and mayor at the same time for two years.

William George Jordan, former magazine editor, at present a writer of books which team with the philosophy of optimism, has had more to do with the success of the conference of governors' movement than he will admit, although he is permanent secretary of the informal organization. He was particularly accommodating to newspapermen, because as he says, he is a "reformed editor," and can sympathize with them.

Not long ago Mr. Jordan published a book, "Little Problems of Married Life," although he openly declares that he is a "bachelor by profession." After the "little problems" had circulated around among the elect for two or three months, there came one day to the author an obese letter containing many pages of accusation from a Washington woman. She knew his secret, and the burden of her lay was this: "As a bachelor, how can you presume to solve the problems of married life?"

Mr. Jordan lay awake for several nights thinking it over, and then penned the reply: "Dear Madam—Dante did not write his 'Inferno' after he got there. The big fish that swallowed Jonah never told the history of that incident, although he was full of his subject. As for the pearl, we never have heard a word from the oyster."

Gov. E. F. Noel, of Alabama, and Mrs. Noel were the guests for lunch yesterday of Judge Shackelford Miller. Mrs. Miller is in Florida for the winter.

Gov. Noel, although not a native of Kentucky, is really a Kentuckian in almost every sense. His father was killed in the Confederate army during the war between the states, and as a young man he came to Louisville to live with his uncle, the late Maj. David W. Sanders. He attended the public schools and he and Judge Miller were graduated together from the male high school in 1877.

One of the members of the informal reception committee was Jake Corbett, of Ballard county, who has lived in nearly all the western states and was acquainted with many of the western governors. Despite his self-imposed expatriation for a period of some twenty years, Mr. Corbett finally felt the call of his fatherland and is now residing on the eastern banks of the Mississippi river. "And I never cross that river any more," he said. "My most devout prayer when I was in the west was to return alive to Kentucky and I never expect to leave Kentucky again, except to go to Washington to succeed Ollie James if he goes to the senate." Mr. Corbett is a brother of Hal Corbett, of Paducah, who was private secretary under Governors J. Proctor Knott and Simon Bolivar Buckner.

Gov. William Hodges Mann, of Virginia, and former Gov. James B. McCreary, of Kentucky, who fought together in the war between the states, spent much time together renewing their old friendships and recalling thrilling periods of the war in which both figured with distinction. In discussing their careers since the war Gov. Mann jokingly told former Gov. McCreary that it took the people of old Virginia longer to recognize his greatness than it did the people of Kentucky to recognize the greatness of Mr. McCreary, the latter having been honored by the people electing him governor of Kentucky thirty-five years ago, while the former was only recently similarly honored by the people of Virginia.

Gov. Edwin J. Norris, of Montana, is both a native Kentuckian and a "Kentuckian-in-law," so to speak. He was born in Cumberland county, Ky., and about a year ago married Miss Bettie Wilkins, of Bowling Green. Before moving to Montana Mr. Norris had taught school in various portions of southern Kentucky and in Tennessee and he frequently returned to his native state. Cumberland county, which gave birth to him, also is credited with being the birthplace of the late Preston H. Leslie, who was both the governor of Kentucky and subsequently the territorial governor of Montana.

Gillem Norris, a traveling salesman of Louisville, is a brother of Gov. Norris and spent much time at the governors' conference. Mrs. Norris also came from Montana to attend the conference and meet her old Kentucky friends.

Dr. Woodrow Wilson, a native Virginian, who developed his talent for governing by presiding over the students of Princeton University for eight years, was a studious attendant at all of the sessions of the conference. Dr. Wilson seemed to be taking lessons on how to be a governor, as it were.

With the exception of a single address which he read at the opening session at Frankfort the governor-elect of New Jersey took no active part in the business of the sessions.

SILENTLY SUFFERED UNTOLD AGONIES

Mrs. Bazemore Bore Terrible Pain Without Complaint, Because She Feared Operation.

Durant's Neck, N. C.—Mrs. Emma Bazemore, of this place, says: "Words fail to express my appreciation and gratitude for the benefit I received from Cardui. I suffered agonies from womanly troubles. I tried different doctors, but they didn't help. The last one I went to said I needed an operation, so I agreed to it, and bore these terrible pains. I felt better, but only for a short time, and soon the misery was worse than ever before. I began to use Cardui, and it made me feel entirely different. Now I am the picture of health, weighing 170 pounds. Before I started the treatment, I could not do my housework. Now, I can do my work, and I feel so much better."

Now every medicine cannot be depended on to cure a woman's ills. Not every tonic will bring back a woman's health. Cardui has done both for thousands of women, because of its unique, specific, curative qualities, especially adapted for use in treating ailments peculiar to women.

Please try it, for your ailments.

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper on request.

MODERN HAIR DRESSING

has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage tea, such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

LIVESTOCK.

Louisville, Dec. 3.—The receipts of hogs were 1,249, for the week thus far 6,301. NEW OFFICER

WILL HAVE CHARGE OF EVANSVILLE DISTRICT.

Capt. G. W. Kirkpatrick Will Be Succeeded By Lieutenant Carrithers.

After two years of faithful service as officer in charge of the Evansville recruiting district for the U. S. army, Capt. G. W. Kirkpatrick, of Evansville, has been relieved and is succeeded by First Lieutenant Truman W. Carrithers, who will enter upon his new duties January 1, 1911. Captain Kirkpatrick will join his command in the Fifteenth cavalry at Fort Myer, Va., near Washington, D. C. During his service as recruiting officer he has performed diligent service, keeping up the good record made by his predecessor, Captain William L. Reed, Eighth Infantry. He is an excellent officer and a gentleman and his departure is regretted by all the officers of the Evansville district.

Lieutenant Carrithers has been stationed at Fort Niagara, N. Y., where he has been in command of Company H, 29th Infantry. He is ordered to report at Columbus Barracks, Ohio, for instructions in the methods of examining recruits, and on or about January 1 to relieve Captain Kirkpatrick at Evansville. This is his official army register: Truman W. Carrithers, born in Illinois, July 28, 1882, appointed to the Military academy from Illinois June 13, 1899; commissioned second lieutenant Twentieth Infantry June 11, 1904; first lieutenant Twenty-ninth Infantry September 12, 1909. He is a young man and well fitted for the recruiting service.

Captain Kirkpatrick's release will go into effect January 1, 1911. Sergeant C. A. Blake, who is in charge of the Paducah station, is well acquainted with the new officer, having soldiered with him in the Philippine Islands from 1903 to 1905. At that time Carrithers was first lieutenant of Company A, Twentieth Infantry, and Sergeant Blake was quartermaster sergeant of Company D.

STATE CROP REPORT.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 3.—The crop report of the Kentucky Agricultural Department issued is summarized as follows:

There have been a number of reports of dry weather causing the wheat and rye not to germinate well. There was quite a good deal of late seeding. There is little acreage of rye sown on the state. There seems to be quite a good deal of rotten corn, especially in the western part of the state. Many farmers say that this has been the best fall for gathering corn in years, the dry, cool weather for it. A number of counties report the need of rain for fall pasture and wheat and rye.

Some splendid yields of corn have been reported, from 60 to 80 bushels per acre, but, taking the whole state, the yield is 27 bushels per acre. In some sections of the state the crop was short. There is not a very large acreage of alfalfa grown in the state. Some counties report an increased acreage.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, Dec. 3.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "Business, while not as large as was anticipated a year ago, is nevertheless of fair proportions and rests upon a basis of economic conditions which in the main are satisfactory. The encouraging features are the unabated agricultural productivity of the country, the absence of demoralizing speculation, the lowness of mercantile stocks, which contribute so largely to soundness of the situation, the conservatism of the banks as the guardians of the country's credit, and the signs of increasing relaxation in the money market.

A noteworthy development of the week was the decision of the steel

LAUGH

With Ellis Parker Butler in The Red Book Magazine

"Pigs is Pigs," as you all know, brought Ellis Parker Butler fame.

Now there isn't a humorous writer living who commands a higher price per word.

One of the funniest sketches which he ever wrote is "Washington Wiggles and the Hot Air Balloon." It is in the December Red Book Magazine—the issue now on sale.

There are 17 stories in this remarkable issue, picked from 1,800 stories submitted to us each month.

The cost of these stories, the picturing and the publishing exceeded $40,000. Among the writers are these:

Hamlin Garland
Hugh Pendexter
Gouverneur Morris

Alfred Henry Lewis
Broughton Brandenburg

But note the masterly stories by writers of lesser renown—by writers just coming to fame. Note "The Great Love Experiment," "The Blue Lady," "Thicker Than Water," "The Difficult Road."

Think of 17 such stories for 15 cents—all those wonderful pictures included. All because of a million readers and an army of advertisers.

The Red Book Magazine seeks the greatest stories written, regardless of what they cost. Our readers demand exceptional stories—we can't use the commonplace. For any gems among stories—such as appear in our December issue—we gladly pay any price.

manufacturers to maintain prices, and although new business is much below productive capacity, yet there is an encouraging outlook for improvement, and the Pennsylvania railroad's large order for rails is a hopeful sign. Large shipments of dry goods for spring distribution is another encouraging indication, and the outlook in the shoe trade is described as brighter. Reports from most of the large cities while not disguising the fact that the volume of transactions is below normal, indicate improvement and a generally hopeful feeling.

Prices in the dry goods market are generally steady, and there is a belief in some quarters that higher values will be forced by the high cost of raw material. There has been some selling of linens and colored cottons as well as more trading in print cloth yarn goods, and con- vertibles. Gingham continues strong. Some small business with China was consummated during the week in cotton goods, but other export trade is quiet, although shipments on old orders are very fair. Silk mills have a very good business booked. Yarn markets rule quiet.

In the shoe trade wholesalers throughout the country are more actively engaged, and in consequence are placing larger orders with the New England manufacturers. Salesmen on the road are also doing more business with retailers. Some labor troubles have developed in different shoe manufacturing centers, but these are not of a serious nature. Trade in leather continues quiet, with considerably more business effected in sole than in upper stock, on account of the fact that cloth and other materials than leather are still being substituted to a large extent in the upper of women's shoes. Harness and belting leather is in moderate request, but trade in kid is dull.

A good man isn't always clever and a clever man isn't always good.

In the history of fire insurance in America, a large majority of the fire insurance companies organized have failed or retired from business. To be insured in companies like Weil's, that have been in business a hundred years and will be in business a hundred years from now, costs no more than to be insured in one that may go out of business next week.

It has a damper top and a cool handle. Indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain, and cannot get lost.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection is finished in japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

A SURE CURE.

A baggard looking woman, speaking with a strong Irish brogue, walked into a West Side drug store in New York the other day and asked for a bottle of Dr. Quack's Consumption Cure. While the clerk was wrapping the package, she conversed volubly of Mike, her husband, who was sick with consumption. She said one of her neighbors, Mrs. Casey, had told her that the bottle of medicine she held in her hands would surely restore Mike to health. So she had saved 50 cents from the scant earnings she made over the washtub in order that her husband might have a chance. As she turned to go away, her eye was attracted by a sign upon which was this legend in big red letters, "Buy Red Cross Christmas Seals, and help Cure Consumption. A penny for a Seal."

From the few cents in the palm of her hand, the woman drew out a nickel and holding it to the clerk, said, "O'll take five of them. Sure, with this bottle of medicine, and them things stuck on Mike, he'll be well in a wake."

Small buttons are used in great numbers for trimming both gowns and suits.

FARLEY DECLINES

WILL NOT GO TO LEXINGTON BANK.

State Treasurer Says He Has Public Duties to Perform for the State.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 3.—Captain Ed Farley today stated that he would not accept the presidency of the Bank of Kentucky at Lexington, to which office he was recently elected. He gave as his reason that he had been elected by the people as state treasurer, and that he felt it his duty to devote his entire time and attention to the work of that office.

He said further, that he would not give up his citizenship in Paducah which he necessarily would have to do were he to accept the presidency of the bank, as it would require all of his time to look after the affairs of the banking institution.

Mr. Upson—You had a good time seeing the river while you were abroad, I presume. Mr. Stuckett—Ritcher—yes, but one performance was enough for me. I've seen it played better right here in Cincinnati.—Chicago Tribune.
